

Spirit of the law ignored in Jean Klock Park case

Posted: Wednesday, January 28, 2004 12:00 am

Editor,

We are told the agreement regarding Jean Klock Park was a "win/win." It was only a win for the not-so-understandable judicial system, the lawyers, the Benton Harbor City Commission and the developers.

The big loser was spirit between people. Everyone understood the spirit in which the Klock family gave this land. You can interpret the language any way you want, but the spirit was there and it was ignored.

Mike Gast

St. Joseph